My name is Tha Panhaleap, and now I'm 11 years old.

I study in grade 6 of Aranhreangsey Primary school, which is located in Trapeang Tim village, Kandek

Commune, Prasat Bakong district, Siem Reap province.

From a distance, we can see large trees, beautiful greenery and the flag of the Kingdom of Cambodia waving.

As we approach closer, the view becomes even more stunning.

Outside the school, there are green trees and parking spaces for motorcycle and cars belonging to parents.

When we go inside, there is a place for students to remember their parents or guardians. Turn to the left, there is a restroom for guests visiting our school as well as for parents or guardians. A little further ahead are two Kindergarten classrooms, and beyond that are meeting rooms and administrative offices for the principal, deputy principal, and teachers. On the left side of the yard is the building for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd-grade students. In the middle of the courtyard is a flagpole where the flag is hoisted. The building at the right side is the water tank is for 4th, 5th, and 6th-grade students and we also have another restrooms for both students and teachers. At back of the restrooms, there is a snack bar for students and teachers. We also have a playground, a sportfield, a garden, and slogans.

And the teachers who teach here all are very friendly and work. All of the students are friendly and they also study hard, too. They're very happy to study here. So do I.

I really love my school because it has a clean environment, good teachers, and good friends. But what I love most are the teachers, all of them are really friendly, kind, and good and they always teach the students to be good people, so I really love to study here. They teachers also want the students to good job.
